Trinity College,

Toronto.

Dear Professor Young:

Let me congratulate you on the solemnis volume of the roll of pupils of Upper Canada College. It will be a very valuable piece of historical work and I am sure contains a great deal of information from which the historian may draw. I should judge that you have expended an almost unlimited amount of time in getting the information that you embodied in it.

With best wishes for the summer,

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Ottawa, Aug. 3rd, 1917.

Dear President:

Here I am, approaching you — quite unexpectedly — with yet another supplication. This time it is in favour of Lieut. H. E. Cawley, who wants to succeed Captain Ogle as commandant of the 67th Battery. He has asked me to speak for him; and that I gladly do.

He stayed the pool a bit during his residence with us, having been sent to college far too young. But from his experiences at Trinity and at R.M.C. to which he went from us, he learned wisdom. He enlisted in Cobalt; where he learned how to handle men, and he was promoted in the field in Flanders. Though he is of a different make from Orde, he will do well, I think, if he is appointed.

Hoping that the Falconers are doing well, I am, with kind regards to Lady Falconer and your sons,

Yours sincerely

A. H. Gordon.

Sir Robert Falconer.
